PRESS RELEASE

3336th Council meeting

Justice and Home Affairs

Luxembourg, 9 October 2014

President Angelino ALFANO
Minister for the Interior of Italy

P R E S S

Main results of the Council

Taking action to better manage migratory flows

Ministers had a discussion on action to better manage migratory flows, on the basis of a paper presented by the Presidency.

The Council concluded that the guiding principles for achieving a strategic and operational approach towards better managing migration flows are:

- (1) Action in cooperation with third countries*
- (2) Reinforced management of external borders and FRONTEX*
- (3) Action at member states' level - reception and fingerprinting.*

The paper defines a sustainable approach to responding to migratory pressure in a structured manner, going beyond the immediate emergency measures. Such an approach could be used as a blueprint to address possible future challenges and could be adapted to the specific needs of any emerging situation.

Angelino ALFANO, Italian Minister for the Interior and President of the Council said: "I'm very happy to announce that the Presidency paper will be formally adopted as Council conclusions tomorrow. That means that we have speeded up the process and it shows that we are united in taking action on this".

Task Force Mediterranean

The Council was briefed by the Commission, FRONTEX and European Asylum Support Office (EASO) on the latest operational developments in the context of the Task Force Mediterranean (TFM). It welcomed the progress achieved so far in the key areas identified and the active involvement of all stakeholders in this process.

The Council acknowledged that the situation in the Mediterranean is of great concern to all member states. The timely implementation of the initiatives identified by the Task Force, with the active contribution of all the stakeholders involved, is key to assisting member states under particular migratory pressure in addressing the challenges they are currently facing.

In this context, the Council welcomed the announcement by the Commission and FRONTEX on the launch, by the first of November, of the EU-funded TRITON operation, aimed at reinforcing border surveillance in the waters close to the Italian shores.

Foreign fighters

The Council had an in-depth discussion on the issue of foreign fighters, as requested by the European Council in August 2014, on the basis of a document prepared by the Presidency in cooperation with the Counter-Terrorism Coordinator.

Angelino ALFANO, Italian Minister for the Interior and President of the Council said: "Ministers agreed on the urgency of making progress on the EU PNR directive and called on the European Parliament to adopt its position to start negotiations with the Council and finalise the work as soon as possible."

The Council also agreed that the checks at external borders should be improved without further delay under the existing legal framework and on certain specific actions that will help to speed up the implementation of the measures already agreed in this field.

* * *

A joint declaration establishing a mobility partnership between the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan and the European Union and its member states is expected to be signed in the margins of the Council.

ITEMS DEBATED

HOME AFFAIRS

Implementation of the EU priorities in combatting serious and organised international crime

The Council took note and welcomed the results and lessons learnt from the large scale law enforcement operation (Operation Archimedes) which took place between the 15 and 23 September 2014 (for more information see background note).

Following this presentation, Ministers held a policy debate on the member states' role and input in the EU's fight against serious and organised crime, and in particular the setting of crime priorities and possibilities to effectively bring together resources at EU level.

Foreign fighters

The Council had an in-depth discussion on the issue of foreign fighters, as requested by the European Council in August 2014, on the basis of a document prepared by the Presidency in cooperation with the Counter-Terrorism Coordinator.

The aim of the discussion was to give political guidance on two topics where further progress must be achieved: the finalisation of the work on the EU PNR directive and the controls at external borders of the Schengen Area.

Regarding the EU PNR Ministers agreed on the urgency of making progress on this file and called on the European Parliament to adopt as soon as possible its position to start negotiations with the Council. The aim is to finalise the work before the end of the year, as requested by the European Council in August 2014.

Regarding the checks at external borders, the Council agreed to improve without further delay these checks under the existing legal framework.

The Council also agreed on a number of specific actions that will help to speed up the implementation of the already agreed measures. These actions do not only relate to the work at EU level so far, they also include the conclusions of the work of the Ministers of Interior of the member states most affected by the foreign fighters phenomenon.

The Council will come back to this issue at its next meeting in December.

For more information see background note.

Taking action to better manage migratory flows

Over lunch, Ministers had a discussion on taking action to better manage migratory flows on the basis of a paper presented by the Presidency.

The paper defines a sustainable approach to responding to migratory pressure in a structured manner, going beyond the immediate emergency measures. Such an approach could be used as a blueprint to address possible future challenges and could be adapted to the specific needs of any emerging situation.

After the discussion, the Council concluded that the guiding principles for achieving a strategic and operational approach towards better managing migration flows are:

- (1) Action in cooperation with third countries
- (2) Reinforced management of external borders and FRONTEX
- (3) Action at Member States' level - reception and fingerprinting.

These priorities should be implemented, through operational actions, by all players involved without delay and under the coordination of the Commission, in close coordination with the EEAS and the Council.

The Commission and the EEAS will report to the Council in December on the implementation of the above-mentioned principles.

Task Force Mediterranean

The Council was briefed by the Commission, FRONTEX and EASO on the latest developments concerning the operational actions within the context of the Task Force Mediterranean (TFM) and welcomed the progress achieved so far in the key areas listed in the Commission's communication showing the active involvement of all stakeholders in this process.

The Council acknowledged that the situation in the Mediterranean is of great concern to all member states, as there are indications that the current trend will continue and the situation even risks deteriorating further. The timely implementation of the initiatives identified by the Task Force, with the active contribution of all the stakeholders involved, is key to assisting member under particular migratory pressure in addressing the challenges they are currently facing

In this context, the Council welcomed the announcement by the Commission and FRONTEX to launch, by the end of this year, the EU-funded TRITON operation, aimed at reinforcing border surveillance in the waters close to the Italian shores.

It also invited the Commission to continue to inform the Council and its preparatory bodies on the implementation of the relevant actions in order to deal with the main challenges related to asylum and migration issues.

The Task Force Mediterranean was set up following the JHA Council of 7-8 October 2013 in order to identify the tools which the EU has at its disposal and which could be used in a more effective way to avoid tragic events such as those that occurred off the coast of Lampedusa.

Other business

Under other business, the Council was informed about the state of play of the directive on the conditions of entry and residency of third-country nationals for the purpose of research, studies, pupil exchange, remunerated and unremunerated training, voluntary service and au pairing.

The Presidency informed ministers on the outcome of the Conference on a Renewed EU Internal Security Strategy, organised by the Commission and the Presidency, which took place in Brussels on 29 September 2014.

The Hungarian delegation invited ministers to the inauguration of CEPOL's new headquarters which will take place on November 2014 in Budapest.

MIXED COMMITTEE

Task Force Mediterranean

The committee was briefed by the Commission, FRONTEX and EASO on the latest developments concerning the operational actions within the context of the Task Force Mediterranean.

- the draft directive on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by competent authorities for the purposes of prevention, investigation, detection or prosecution of criminal offences or the execution of criminal penalties, and the free movement of such data.
